

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Image plus event information printing system, which comprises an image data inputting means for inputting a datum of original image, an event information database which
5 memorizes the data of current and/or passing events information being sorted with one or more items, wherein one of the items consists of the occurrence time of the event, an event information retrieval means for extracting any event information within a predetermined range being in correlation
10 to the time which is related to the original image, by retrieving from the sorted data in the event information database with using one or more of the items, an image editing means for preparing a datum of an image plus event information, from the datum of original image and the extracted event information,
15 and a printing means for printing the image plus current events information in accordance with the datum prepared by the image editing means.